

Worrying Dreams

One day there lived a girl named Elsie. And Elsie always had bad, worrying, horrible, terrifying dreams.

So one day Elsie got a worry monster.

When she first got him, 'Worry' was hungry, so Elsie fed it a worry. It was a bad dream.

That night Elsie had an AMAZING dream!!! She dreamt she went to Sweetie World! And she went with 'Worry', her worry monster.

She bounced off jelly and she licked a chocolate river. There were even chocolate tree trunks! They were definitely bigger than a chocolate log. It was the BEST DREAM EVER!

But there was still more to come....

The next night, Elsie did not want another bad dream, so she said to Worry "I do not want another bad dream. I want a dream like last night's dream". Just before Elsie went to bed she lost her tooth! That gave her an idea of what to dream about.

When she went to bed she dreamt about being at the Tooth Fairy's castle. It was a wonderful dream and she told her sister Betty all about it! It was so good that the next night her sister Betty really wanted the Tooth Fairy to come to her.

Now, Betty was a bit of a monkey. When everybody was asleep, she crept into the kitchen and got some sweetcorn and painted it white. Then she put it under her pillow. But when the Tooth Fairy came to collect it, she realised it was a trick because there was paint on Betty's pillow! The Tooth fairy wrote a letter to Betty. It said....

Dear Betty,

I know that you tried to trick me with a fake tooth.

However, because your real teeth are clean, I will give you £1.

Love from

The Tooth Fairy

After the Tooth Fairy's visit, Elsie decided she didn't need her Worry Monster anymore, so she gave it to her best friend Anna because she had been having bad dreams too. She knew that 'Worry' would look after Anna, just like he had looked after her.
